

Job Description

Position: Statistical Programmer (clinical)

Location: Office or home-based

Status: Permanent

2 positions open

One position requires CDISC/SDTM/ADaM experience; the other does not Pharmaceutical industry experience required

Functional Description:

Positions in this function are responsible for the statistical programming used during clinical trials. Works with the Data Management function to assist in developing programs that are clinical in nature.

General Profile:

- Generally work is self-directed and not prescribed.
- Works with less structured, more complex issues.
- Serves as a resource to others.
- Assesses and interprets customer needs and requirements.
- Identifies solutions to non-standard requests and problems.
- Solves moderately complex problems and/or conducts moderately complex analyses.
- Works with minimal guidance; seeks guidance on only the most complex tasks.
- Translates concepts into practice.
- Provides explanations and information to others on difficult issues.
- Coaches, provides feedback, and guides others.
- Acts as a resource for others with less experience.

Minimum Educational Background / Experience:

- Undergraduate degree or equivalent experience.

Contact

Anissa Rogers
inVentiv Clinical Solutions
arogers@inventivclinical.com

Company Description

At inVentiv Clinical Solutions (iCS), our mission is to be the alternative to traditional clinical outsourcing for the biopharmaceutical industry, allowing clients the greatest control and flexibility through unmatched access to the highest quality clinical resources. iCS provides clients with a variety of flexible options to meet their clinical trial objectives, including outsourcing of one or several functions associated with the clinical trial process, expert clinical staffing and recruitment, and creating strategically resourced work groups. Our solutions are designed to increase efficiency and accelerate results. iCS is headquartered in Houston, Texas, with offices throughout the globe.